

Financial Aid Application

I. FINANCIAL AID PROCESS

Financial aid is a separate process from Admissions. If you have this form to complete, you have already been admitted into the Master's program at the Future Generations Graduate School. The next step is financing your education.

We look at financing your Master's Degree Program as a partnership. Each student and their family are expected to bear part of the costs. From there it is the student's part to pursue additional in-country funding while the Graduate School pursues out-of-country funding. Your part comes from family resources, contributions from your employer, and your country specific scholarship opportunities. Our part comes in the form of tuition discounts and international scholarship funds. The key is that we work together to make this program affordable to you.

II. PERSONAL AND FAMILY INCOME

What is your monthly income?	$
If married, what is your spouse's monthly income?	$
How much money do you have in savings?	$
What will you be able to contribute towards your education?	$
What is your family's monthly income?	$
What will your family be able to contribute towards your master's education?	$

III. EMPLOYER RESOURCES

Who is your employer?
Discuss this educational opportunity with your employer and determine how much your employer is willing to contribute to your graduate studies.	$

Note: Often times an employer is willing to be a partner in your education if you work on an employment-related project for your practicum.

IV. OTHER RESOURCES

Please list four organizations (including your community), donor funded projects, or sources of scholarships to which you have solicited or are planning to solicit financial aid.

Note: A major part of this financial partnership is how we work together to access other resources. We will support your applications to other funding sources and will also seek scholarships for which you are eligible. That process begins as soon as you submit this form.
